California Educator Chooses Neighborhood School System

A respected California educator has determined that "The Junior High School Is A Poor Investment".

That is the title of an article in this month's edition of The Nation's Schools, a widely-read magazine for school administrators, by J. H. Hull, superintendent of a Torrance, Calif., school district.

Hull's statement was prompted by the 1959 California Legislature, which ordered a study be made as to the relative merits of the departmentalized seventh and eighth grade and the self-contained classroom system.

This is a vital problem, one which is involved in shifting seventh and eighth grades to neighborhood units here in Circleville which is planned if the $1,475,500 bond issue passes May 3.

The departmentalized plan is similar to what is now being used here. A child goes to several teachers, each of whom instructs in only one subject.

The self-contained classroom system means the teacher instructs several subjects to students in his room.

THE CALIFORNIA Legislature instituted the study to find if departmentalized plan is superior and to find if it is enough superior to justify the excess cost of such a system.

Hull says that there are 16 elements most honest educators will list as being present, to some degree, in junior high schools.

They are:

- 1: Teachers more concerned with subject matter than with children. (They have to be when meeting 150 students a day.)
- 2: Teachers who want to be senior high teachers.
- 3: Poor teachers who have been demoted from the high school.

4: Good teachers, but trained in elementary education.

- 5: Teachers marking time until they can get a better job.
- 6: Parents, teachers and administrators going along with an "ape the high school" program, even to competitive sports.

7: Many teachers who can't handle disciplinary problems.

8: Student body almost out of control.

9: Students aping high school students.

10: Students shuttled from room to room all day.

11: Students not really responsible to any one in particular.

12: Teachers not responsible for any particular group of students.

13: Parents rather frightened with the whole, often ineffective, process.

14: Cost of education higher than with self-contained class room.

15: Lost seventh and eighth graders in a hopeless quandary.

16: A mass of students who have learned to go the limit with each teacher. They arrive at high school with a crass, arrogant attitude.

Hull declares that "all these elements add up to a stupendous bozo on the profession."

He says the typical junior high system fails to see the fundamental fact that a child needs the security of a steady environment when he is getting his physical and emotional growth.

Hull says in his article, "The junior high program puts this unstable child, at a most vulnerable period in life, in a situation in which he has to adjust to many new environmental changes daily, and then asks him to study effectively.

"To place this exploding group of immature youngsters in a crucible of constantly mixing and milling schoolrooms with no time to let teachers really know and guide them is the crime of the century."

THE CALIFORNIA superintendent says that Torrance schools decided on the self-contained classroom after a searching study of the results of junior high school systems.

He said that after reviewing virtually all the literature on junior highs, both pro and con, "It is clear to me that the better junior highs are organized more like the elementary schools with large blocks of time under the control of one teacher."

He says that fundamentally, the teacher still makes the school, rather than the organization. This is true of the junior high as with any school. The organization may be a help or a hindrance.

It is doubtful, Hull states, that the junior high plan will ever replace the importance of the relationship between the teacher and the student.

"With its extra expenditures and poor results it should be realized that the junior high school dream has not come to pass and is impractical."

Plague-Laden Fog Could Envelop Area

CLEVELAND (AP)—New germ warfare studies using living germs loosed in the atmosphere show how a plague-laden fog could envelop American coastal points from far at sea.

This was reported Friday by an Army bacteriological warfare defense specialist.

"The possibility of the strategic coverage at long range of very extensive target areas is the major threat of bacteriological warfare to our nation," the specialist said.

Dr. LeRoy D. Fothergill of the Army's Chemical and Bacteriological Warfare Research Center, Ft. Detrick, Md., told about it at a special symposium on germ and chemical warfare defense conducted by the American Chemical Society at its 137th national meeting.

He did so in disclosing the first reported field trials involving the use of living, infectious microbes to determine the range from which a potential enemy might successfully loose such weapons and sicken men, animals or plants.

The scientist disclosed that a quantity of germs, in the form of an aerosol spray, was loosed into the air from one point in an uninhabited area and carried downwind.

Guinea pigs, he told a reporter, had been placed previously at various points throughout the area.

Later, it was discovered that guinea pigs were infected for a distance of 15 miles downwind from the point of origin of the aerosol.

The scientist declined to identify the particular organism used or to say where the test was conducted.

2 Chillicotheans Killed in Crash

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—Two men were killed and a third was injured early today when their car left a curve on Ohio 772, a half-mile southwest of here, and struck a telephone pole and the corner of a brick house.

The State Highway Patrol identified the dead as Dale Chaney, 22, the driver, and Robert Yerian, 30.

Injured and admitted to Chillicothe Hospital in fair condition was Ray Rinehart, 42. All are of Rt. 7, Chillicothe.

No one was hurt in the house struck by the car.

NLRB Calls for Accord In Lancaster Dispute

CINCINNATI (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today ordered a union-management dispute settled at the Anchor Hocking Glass Corp., Lancaster, Ohio, within 10 days.

Otherwise, the NLRB said in a directive, both sides must appear at a hearing in Fairfield County Common Pleas Court April 27.

The union local is charged with engaging in unfair labor practices, according to the NLRB. The charge arose over conflicting claims in assignment of work.

Jaycees Endorse Bond Issue; Lay Plans for Town Meeting

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday night endorsed the $1,475,500 city school bond issue at its monthly general membership dinner meeting.

Guests at the dinner meeting held in the Wardell Party Home included James Mace and Vint Dorsey.

Federal plans were made for the Jaycee Town Meeting to be held at 8 p. m. April 21 in the CHS social room. The Town Meeting panel will be made up of members of the Circleville Board of Education, George A. Hartman, school superintendent, and Virgil M. Cress, city school business manager.

The panel will answer all questions dealing with the proposed bond issue, which comes to a vote at the May 3 primary election.

William A. Stout is chairman of this project. Robert K. Harrod, Herald editor, will act as moderator.

The Jaycees urged all citizens who have questions regarding the bond issue to send them with friends, if they are unable to attend the Town Meeting, or send them to Harrod at The Circleville Herald.

Laurence Priest announced that final plans have been set for the Teenage Road-e-o, which will be held the afternoon of May 4 on Mound St., between S. Washington and Clinton Sts.

Program for the evening was presented by Robert Steele, business manager for Scioto Downs. He was assisted by Donald Litzenberger.

He said that after reviewing virtually all the literature on junior highs, both pro and con, "It is clear to me that the better junior highs are organized more like the elementary schools with large blocks of time under the control of one teacher."

Nixon, Ike Differ on Birth Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon has taken a stand on birth control information policy that differs from the views of President Eisenhower.

Senate Passes Rights Bill, Speedy House OK Now Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights bill was back on the House's doorstep today after being passed by the Senate 71-18.

House leaders of both parties are expected to urge the House to accept the changes made by the Senate in the embattled measure none of which substantially altered its basic provisions.

This would speed final action by avoiding the necessity of having to set up a Senate-House Conference Committee to compromise the differences.

But even if the House does concur in the Senate amendments, the outlook is that this will not be done until some time after Easter.

In all probability the measure will have to run the gauntlet of the House Rules Committee, headed by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va), a longtime foe of civil rights measures.

Passage of the bill by the Senate Friday night climaxes a battle that began Feb. 15 and included more than a week of sessions around the clock.

The House had passed its bill 311-109 on March 24.

The measure embodies most, but not all, of President Eisenhower's civil rights proposals, although not exactly as he recommended them.

Its principal feature is provision

White Man Is Held for Slaying Try

Verwoerd Is Labeled As Uncompromising On Anti-Negro Issue

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd, an uncompromising architect of South Africa's white supremacy policies, was shot and wounded today by a middle-aged white man. Blood streamed from Verwoerd's head.

His frank appraisal was contained Friday in a long letter to Chilean students who had criticized U.S. policies toward Cuba during Eisenhower's visit to Chile.

The Eisenhower letter produced no immediate reaction in Cuba, but observers in Havana felt sure it would provoke a sharp note from Castro's government or a long television speech by the Prime Minister.

The Chilean students had written to Eisenhower that they thought the United States had codified Latin-American dictators and had not done enough to promote democracy and provide economic aid.

Eisenhower briefly mentioned the criticism in a speech during his Chilean visit, and promised a detailed reply. The 14-page letter, transmitted through the American ambassador in Chile, was that reply.

In it, the President sought to clear up what he felt were misconceptions about U.S. policies in Latin America.

"God help me," he exclaimed.

Members of an ambulance crew bandaged Verwoerd's head and rushed him to a hospital for an immediate operation. The South African Broadcasting Co., announced that his condition was not critical.

A doctor reporting on his preliminary examination mentioned only one wound. He said a bullet seemed to have struck the cheekbone and glanced away.

The shooting was witnessed by thousands who turned out to hear the Prime Minister say in a speech that white South Africans would fight for their existence and survive despite the racial strife in the country.

Berry Success Hinges upon Right Variety

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

If you are having trouble deciding which strawberry variety to use for this year's planting, you are not alone. It is a common ailment, this time of year, especially among beginners. But with the variety picture constantly changing, even veteran growers are often troubled.

There are vast differences in the way different varieties perform. They respond more than most crops to local growing conditions. According to R. G. Hill of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, selection of the best variety for the local growing conditions is one of the most important considerations for successful berry production.

A good guide for Ohio growers is the performance records of the many different varieties at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station. The best early variety in these tests during past years has been Earlidawn, a relative newcomer.

It bears several days ahead of Premier, the next earliest. It has yielded regularly almost 8,000 quarts per acre. At this rate of production a grower with only 100 plants could expect about 100 quarts of berries.

Other varieties that are particularly well suited to Ohio conditions are Catskill, Erie, Pocahontas, Amore and Empire.

OF THE RED-STELE resistant varieties, Sparkle has been one of the most productive, often producing more than 10,000 quarts per acre. Other resistant varieties planting are Plentiful, Surecrop, and Vermilion.

Station tests have shown that varieties perform best when grown from virus-free nursery stock, a superior stock more productive than ordinary. This stock is available through many nurseries.

Beginning berry growers might try out several of these better varieties in their gardens. Dr. Hill suggests, to see which ones do best. As new varieties come into the picture, try them on a small basis before devoting the entire planting to the newcomer.

Schneider Reports On Youth Meeting

This article was written by Roger Schneider, Room 4, Roger, as a delegate to represent all Ohio 4-H club boys and girls at the President's White House Conference on Children and Youth.

By ROGER SCHNEIDER

On March 27, 1960, the Golden Anniversary White House Conference on Children and Youth opened on the Campus of the University of Maryland at 8 p.m.

At this opening session of the conference, President Eisenhower addressed the group. In his speech he challenged the conference delegates to bring forth resolutions that could help the youth of America make a better life for themselves.

The conference consisted of 10,000 delegates of which 1,000 were youth from all over the United States plus many international guests. The youth delegates consisted of outstanding young men and women representing such organizations as state universities, honor societies, Boy and Girl Scouts, 4-H boys and girls, YMCA, YWCA, and different religious groups.

The other 9,000 delegates consisted of family life specialists, extension agents, psychiatrists, ministers of all faiths, heads of different welfare agencies, judges, lawyers and many other outstanding leaders.

The 10,000 delegates were divided into five different theme groups and on March 28, 29, and 30, I met with my theme group at 9 a.m. each day and we had the honor of listening to two speakers talk on the topic to which our theme pertained.

Newsman went scurrying today when a release from the office of the finance director showed a whopping 100-million-dollar difference from a release issued two days ago from the state auditor's office.

Turned out that the first release was prepared on the basis of work-sheets figures in which there was a copying error. The figure which should have been $1,108,583,193 came out $1,008,589,193.

The auditor's figures and the finance director's always vary a little bit because of money in transit and the like.

So, for the record, the finance director reports that from July 1 last year to March 31 this year—the first nine months of the fiscal year—the state took in $99,753,816 more than in the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year.

During this fiscal year, the state has taken in only about four million dollars more than it has spent. But in the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year—1958-59—the state spent nearly 40 million dollars more than its income, his report shows.

Berry Success Hinges upon Right Variety

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

If you are having trouble deciding which strawberry variety to use for this year's planting, you are not alone. It is a common ailment, this time of year, especially among beginners. But with the variety picture constantly changing, even veteran growers are often troubled.

There are vast differences in the way different varieties perform. They respond more than most crops to local growing conditions. According to R. G. Hill of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, selection of the best variety for the local growing conditions is one of the most important considerations for successful berry production.

A good guide for Ohio growers is the performance records of the many different varieties at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station. The best early variety in these tests during past years has been Earldawn, a relative newcomer.

It bears several days ahead of Premier, the next earliest. It has yielded regularly almost 8,000 quarts per acre. At this rate of production a grower with only 100 plants could expect about 100 quarts of berries.

Other varieties that are particularly well suited to Ohio conditions are Catskill, Erie, Pocahontas, Amore and Empire.

OF THE RED-STELE resistant varieties, Sparkle has been one of the most productive, often producing more than 10,000 quarts per acre. Other resistant varieties planting are Plentiful, Surecrop, and Vermilion.

Station tests have shown that varieties perform best when grown from virus-free nursery stock, a superior stock more productive than ordinary. This stock is available through many nurseries.

Beginning berry growers might try out several of these better varieties in their gardens, Dr. Hill suggests, to see which ones do best. As new varieties come into the picture, try them on a small basis before devoting the entire planting to the newcomer.

Best varieties for freezing, according to station trials, are Earldawn, Pocahontas, Surecrop, and Sparkle.

After three days of discussion and voting, our group came up with 12 resolutions. Our work group's resolutions in the forum were condensed and brought before the forum for a vote on March 31.

When all of the resolutions adopted from all of the forums were brought together and listed there were 1,600 resolutions.

These resolutions will be sent to the Indiana University student body.

The demonstration came after Tom Atkins Jr., of Elkhart Ind., defeated Mike Dunn of New Castle, Ind., by 45 votes—3,059 to 3,014. Atkins ran on the independent party ticket, and Dunn was backed by the organized party of fraternities and sororities.

At the closing ceremony on Friday, it was the hope of the Conference that these resolutions could be adopted by the different agencies to which they pertained and that they would be carried out to the best possible advantage.

These resolutions will be sent to the Indiana University student body.

The demonstration came after Tom Atkins Jr., of Elkhart Ind., defeated Mike Dunn of New Castle, Ind., by 45 votes—3,059 to 3,014. Atkins ran on the independent party ticket, and Dunn was backed by the organized party of fraternities and sororities.

At the closing ceremony on Friday, it was the hope of the Conference that these resolutions could be adopted by the different agencies to which they pertained and that they would be carried out to the best possible advantage.

It was a wonderful experience for me to be selected as the 4-H boy from Ohio to attend the Golden Anniversary White House Conference on Children and Youth. I will never forget this experience on being able to voice my opinion on different opportunities of the youth of America.

I hope that all 4-H members will work hard and strive to attain the many rewards that 4-H offers.

This conference is held only once every ten years, so it is my hope that in 1970 some youth from Pickaway County will be selected to attend.

When all of the resolutions adopted from all of the forums were brought together and listed there were 1,600 resolutions.

These resolutions will be sent to the Indiana University student body.

State Cabinet Aides Ponder Ohio's Economy

Bad Weather, Lagging Auto Output Hurting Buckeye Prospects

COLUMBUS (AP) — Cabinet members have expressed concern to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle over the economic impact on Ohio of bad March weather and lagging auto production.

Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers said some small businesses were having a very difficult time.

He said sales tax collections were holding up mainly because of increases imposed by the last Legislature.

The automobile and building industries account for more than 40 per cent of sales taxes, he said.

"I think we are going to come out very close to estimates," Bowers reported. "But if we should have a bad spring on the sale of automobiles we could drop below."

Administrator Donald B. Leach of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said the claim load for jobless benefits was about 60 per cent greater than last year during March. "I am concerned about the high level of the claim load," he said. He blamed the situation largely on a lag into auto production.

Highway Director Everett S. Preston said a number of highway contractors were in difficulty.

"We find that the highway industry is perhaps in the worst economic condition in many years," he reported.

Preston blamed a federal slowdown on interstate highway construction for much of the trouble. Some large contractors get geared for a sizeable program and then have to shut down, he explained. He added that some contractors have gone bankrupt.

DiSalle asked his director of industrial and economic development to look into a job situation in Plymouth, north of Mansfield. Director Koder M. Collison said he would contract the Felt - Root-Heath Co. in an effort to help obtain a government contract to build locomotives for use in the Panama Canal Zone.

Company officials said the contract for more than 4½ million dollars over a three-year period would enable them to restore their recently reduced work force.

Collison said officials told him that a Japanese company was attempting to underbid them on construction of 40 locomotives.

State Personnel Director James T. Welsh said he planned to hire an additional 20 workers to help speed examinations for provisional state employees.

He reported that provisions in state service increased from 14,097 last Jan. 1 to 15,818 on April 1. During the same period classified employees dropped from 25,113 to 24,615.

Unclassified employees during the same period increased from 5,066 to 5,240.

Welsh said he would put on a night force to expedite examinations for provisions. He explained the drop in classified workers resulted mainly from resignations and deaths.

State employees, with some exceptions, totaled 45,673 on April 1, compared with 44,294 at the beginning of the year.

DiSalle backed his finance director, James H. Maloon, in calling for early budget estimates from department heads for the next biennium.

"I would like to be able to give a state of the state message and a budget message to the Legislature before Jan. 20 next year to save time," the governor said.

"I would like to expedite the legislative session if possible," he said.

Choose Right Planter Plate

To Fit Kernel

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Farmers can get far better stands of corn if they choose the right planter plate. The correct fit for a planter plate is one which provides 1 1/8 - inch clearance between the end of the kernel and the edge of the plate.

If the planter plate cells are too small, kernels will not wet squarely in the cell. Often times the seed will be kicked out of the cell or broken by the scraper bar of the planting mechanism. This means fewer kernels will be dropped. At high speeds, using a seed plate with cells that are too small can cut stands as much as 60 per cent.

If the cells of the plate are too long this will permit two small kernels to fit in end-wise. When this happens the scraper bar will push out some kernels and crack others as the plate rotates. In a situation like this cracked corn can be as much as 18 to 20 per cent of the planted corn.

Selection of the proper seed plate for the planter will do as much or more to increase uniformity of stand than any other planting operation.

Insect Alerts

Poison Control Centers

The season for using insecticides and pesticides is right on us, many other of these insecticides are very hazardous to the user. Manufacturers include a "Note to Physician" on the label or in other literature. A person should exercise all precautions indicated on the label of an insecticide that he may be going to use.

There are poison control centers established to give advice for emergency treatment.

The nearest poison control center to Circleville and Pickaway County is Poison Control Center, Children's Hospital, 17th Street at Livingston Park, Phone Clearbrook 8-9783, Warren E. Wheeler, M.C.

Spittlebug Control

Correct timing for control with methoxychlor is important. To decide whether to spray or not, can be determined by walking across the field and picking 25 stems at random. Count can be made off the stems. You will find young spittlebugs hiding where the leaf join the stem. The spittle-mass will not be present.

If the average is one per stem, it is a damaging infestation. Methoxychlor lasts, so it is better to spray clover at a height of 6 inches than to wait and get poorer coverage.

It takes a minimum of 10 gallons of spray per acre to get good results with methoxychlor, using two quarts of the 25 per cent emulsion concentrate in the 10 gallons of water per acre.

Perry Mason Believes D.A. Will Win Personal Lawsuit

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "The Case of the Fired D.A." continued to rumble today as Raymond Burr came out in defense of his court-room opponent, William Talman.

Burr, TV's Perry Mason, issued this statement to The Associated Press:

"The present situation involving William Talman is one of the most unfortunate I have ever encountered. I feel very strongly that the incident has been magnified all out of proportion . . .

"I am sure that in the final analysis matters will not turn out to be as serious as newspaper stories would indicate and that Mr. Talman will resume his career, achieving the heights that his talent so richly deserves."

"Tonight's chapter of the who-dunit is called "The Case of the Crying Cherub." Burr as defense attorney Mason faces actor David Lewis as deputy D.A.

Burr apparently will be vanquishing a succession of deputies. Talman, who argued the state's case in the courtroom drama, was dropped as a cast regular after his arrest at a wild party.

CBS found itself with four un-released shows in which Talman appears. These were shelved for re-runs and newly-made shows without Talman. He will not re-appear on "Perry Mason" until May 25.

The case continues its controversy. Talman, faced with lewd charges, declared: "No program, particularly this program, should fire a man merely on an accusation."

Executive Producer Gail Patrick Jackson first said a decision about Talman's job would be fore-stalled until outcome of his case.

But the firing order came from the network. "CBS took the network," Mrs. Jackson said.

Talman's criminal trial is scheduled for April 25, and his attorney, Arthur Crowley, said the actor "will certainly plead not guilty." The lawyer added that CBS hasn't notified Talman of a dismissal. "And if it does, we will promptly take action; we still have a contract," he said.

As with all actors, Talman's contract has a clause calling for dismissal in case of public censure for immorality. "But you can't fire a man who hasn't been proven guilty," Crowley declared.

'Fun' Overworked Word

Of all the words that have been flogged to rags in recent years none is more pitiful than the innocent little word "fun". "You get more fun when you . . ." says a commanding voice. "And there's a bonus, there's more fun in it," says a smiling Big Brother.

Once upon a time fun meant the bubbling mirth of children at play, or the spontaneous amusement of their parents and friends. Now it has become a commodity, an aim of existence, an escapist's mood. One can get more of it by popping something into a pie or a gasoline tank, by wearing this or eating that. It is the syndrome of the age.

Instead of being able to buy fun as one buys a pound of bacon across a counter, it cannot even be planned, for it is spontaneous and almost always a joyful accident. These things we know and have known since childhood. We do not need anyone to tell us that a desperate pursuit of joy is only a pursuit of a will-o'-the-wisp that

Pioneer V Spurs Spirits

Pioneer V, the second U. S. solar satellite, is well along on what scientists acclaim as the deepest and most revealing study of space ever achieved.

Pioneer V's achievement provides a psychological boost for those who were disturbed by Russian claims of moon shots, claims which have been persistently disputed. Pioneer's data on radiation, cosmic dust and magnetic fields should expedite the orbiting of a Venus satellite as well as the first effort at manned space flight.

It is actually true that the human race, eludes us. Nothing is so empty of satisfaction as a life that is devoted in its chief aims to entertainment.

Fun is not the hollow laughter that so often rings across the barbecue, nor the thin excitement around the superbly equipped picnic basket. It is the unconscious glee of meal-forgetting children at play, the laughter among good friends untinged with envy, and the pleasure of the spirit that comes from having done a good and simple job with one's own hands. That is fun.

Conservancy Law Actions Are Delayed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Action on four suits challenging dissolution of the Scioto - Sandusky Conservancy District has been postponed until Sept. 26 by the 10th District Court of Appeals.

The delay was approved by John Eckler, attorney representing the conservancy district, and City Atty. Russell Leach who represents Columbus in one of the four suits.

Judge William C. Bryant said the two attorneys explained they have run into numerous legal problems concerning the district and that it will require considerable time to research the questions.

The conservancy district judges voted Dec. 29, 1958, to dissolve the present district which was formed in 1934, by a 12-5 vote. Since that date there has been agitation to reconvene the conservancy court and reconsider the dissolution vote.

Meanwhile, a new state advisory council on water legislation has approved plans to draft proposals for legislation permitting establishment of watershed districts. These districts could be set up in river basin districts with a goal to implement flood control and provide a better system of financing water improvements including reservoir sites.

Obviously, the older children were able to disengage their arms much more quickly than the smaller youngsters.

Injury to the elbow apparently is the most common form of wringer accident. Longer treatment was required for accidents in which the entire arm went through the wringer than when only part of it was injured.

The report, which appeared in the "Southern Medical Journal", said an average of 11.8 days of hospitalization were required for patients who suffered axillary or underarm injuries. An average of 18 surgical procedures were needed for each of these cases.

For elbow injury, 7.2 days of hospitalization was the average. Only 5.6 days in the hospital were required by those with hand or wrist injuries.

Three surgical procedures were needed for elbow and wrist injuries.

Moderate swelling and slight tenderness which usually is noticed immediately after a wringer accident might mask a much more severe injury.

Most injuries of this kind require immediate compression dressings and prompt hospitalization.

Watch That Washing Machine

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
Many chores around the home are apt to become so routine that you fail to recognize the possible dangers they present.

Laundering is about the best example I can think of.

While many of you probably have automatic washing machines, a great many more use the wringer-type electric washing machine.

That wringer presents a potential danger to you and your children. And the younger the child, the greater the danger.

Several Washington, D. C. doctors made a study of washing machine injuries a short time ago.

They found, as would be expected, that children are the most frequent victims of wringer accidents.

This particular study showed that the average age of those suffering injuries all the way up to the arm pit was four years and two months.

For those who suffered injury up to the elbow, the average age was six years. And the age of those with only hand or wrist injuries was 13 years and eight months.

Obviously, the older children were able to disengage their arms much more quickly than the smaller youngsters.

Injury to the elbow apparently is the most common form of wringer accident. Longer treatment was required for accidents in which the entire arm went through the wringer than when only part of it was injured.

tion. With the proper care, though, most wringer accident victims are able to regain the full use of their arms.

If there is a moral to this study, it is this:

Keep your children away from washing machines and be mindful of the danger yourself. Show all your children how to release the wringer in case of an emergency.

Question and Answer

W. E. T.: Could cancer be caused from constant breathing of car fumes?

Answer: Since the exact cause of lung cancer is not conclusively known, it is possible that there is some substance in automobile exhaust fumes which, if breathed regularly for 20 years or more, might contribute to the production of cancer.

'Fun' Overworked Word

Of all the words that have been flogged to rags in recent years none is more pitiful than the innocent little word "fun". "You get more fun when you . . ." says a commanding voice. "And there's a bonus, there's more fun in it," says a smiling Big Brother.

Once upon a time fun meant the bubbling mirth of children at play, or the spontaneous amusement of their parents and friends. Now it has become a commodity, an aim of existence, an escapist's mood. One can get more of it by popping something into a pie or a gasoline tank, by wearing this or eating that. It is the synecdoche of the age.

Instead of being able to buy fun as one buys a pound of bacon across a counter, it cannot even be planned, for it is spontaneous and almost always a joyful accident. These things we know and have known since childhood. We do not need anyone to tell us that a desperate pursuit of joy is only a pursuit of a will-o'-the-wisp that eludes us. Nothing is so empty of satisfaction as a life that is devoted in its chief aims to entertainment.

Fun is not the hollow laughter that so often rings across the barbecue, nor the thin excitement around the superbly equipped picnic basket. It is the unconscious glee of meal-forgetting children at play, the laughter among good friends untinged with envy, and the pleasure of the spirit that comes from having done a good and simple job with one's own hands. That is fun.

Pioneer V Spurs Spirits

Pioneer V, the second U. S. solar satellite, is well along on what scientists acclaim as the deepest and most revealing study of space ever achieved.

Pioneer V's achievement provides a psychological boost for those who were disturbed by Russian claims of moon shots, claims which have been persistently disputed. Pioneer's data on radiation, cosmic dust and magnetic fields should expedite the orbiting of a Venus satellite as well as the first effort at manned space flight.

It is actually true that the human race, which only the other day left the horse-and-buggy age behind it, can look forward to the day when men will leave this terrestrial ball to visit other heavenly bodies millions of miles away? So it appears.

Pioneer V will range the reaches of space between the earth's orbit and the orbit of Venus, reporting by radio what it finds there. Each space project represents its own advance in what the scientists call "the state of the art." This embraces everything that is involved in penetrating to the planets.

By George Sokolsky

and rule must discriminate and master or they will be drowned in the mass. It was this policy which conquered Africa and Asia. When it was abandoned by 20th Century liberalism, by every country except Soviet Russia, the European empires fell and the Asiatic empires were strengthened. But the Asians make discrimination a creed, as, for instance, the Arab attitude toward Israel and quite apart from Israel, toward Jews. Another example may be the Red Chinese attitude toward Tibetans, etc.

It was inevitable, after World War I, that this explosion among the pigmented peoples should take place. Actually, its authors are Woodrow Wilson and General Jan Smuts, the South African. When in the Fourteen Points they advocated self-determination, what did they expect? Would it only apply to Finns against Russians or Croats against Serbs?

Race, color, and religion are the most exciting mass emotions. The South African explosion involves all three of these human responses to the emotion of pride. Today there are no underdogs. Only in a very rich society such as we have, do emotionally outworn persons deny race and religion, although they have some difficulty with color. Name-changers, nose-clippers in our society believe that they have solved the problems of discrimination finally and forever. But they have not solved the problem of pride and that always makes trouble for the group as well as the individual.

The white minority in South Africa wants to forget that there would have been no colored as distinct from Negroes if the white folks had not had Negro mistresses and even wives. The biological intermingling of races produced the intermediate colored elements which, in the past, did not regard themselves as Negroes but they are now giving the enormous Negro population an educated and alert leadership.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE WHITE HOUSE points out Amy Jensen, has always been a challenge to those who live there. The first residents, Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, found it only partially completed when they moved in in 1800. Mrs. Adams, asked to give her opinion of the place, took refuge in a superb piece of understatement. Making no effort to conceal her disapproval, she remarked that it "seemed capable of every improvement."

When Andrew Jackson moved in, the stables for his racing horses played a prominent part in the scheme of things. How would the country react today to a President who maintained a racing stable?

Richard Armour, author of "Writing Light Verse," came back from a fitting at his tailor's, was moved to dash off the following lines:

One mirror does not constitute a vital threat to me,
But when I'm trying on a suit and see myself in three,
I get a sudden full-length view of profile and rear—
A sight I'm unaccustomed to and which I always fear.

Dear Sir:

About two weeks ago I was informed that separate rooms were being fixed above the County Jail in which to place delinquent boys and girls that have been in trouble.

Dear Citizens, don't you think it would be more sensible if this money could be spent toward a large recreation building in which the young folks of Circleville and Pickaway County could let off their steam (under supervision, of course) playing indoor tennis, volleyball, dancing and other clean recreation activities with a snack bar included serving sandwiches, potato chips, ice cream, soft drinks, etc.

It seems that there is money successfully raised for other things outside of Circleville, so why can't there be money raised for this purpose and keep our future citizens from becoming Juvenile Delinquents? I believe I'd be safe in saying that our delinquency would be cut down 90 per cent.

Every one talks about our juveniles, but no one does anything for them. It may not be your son or daughter, that gets into trouble, but won't you please wake up to the fact that it is some ones child that you could help?

Other towns smaller than Circleville have made a big success of doing this for their young folks. Why not Circleville too?

Secret knowledge has always given man a feeling of power. When we know something nobody else does it sometimes puffs up our egos and it is only human to want to display this superiority. There are many reasons why we should learn to keep a confidence.

We shall study these together in our lesson. God is the revealer of the deep and secret things Daniel tells us. Throughout the Bible we find that true happiness depends in a large measure on your ability to keep your tongue from wagging.

A confidence is actually a gift someone has handed to you. Let us learn this subject of secrets that will help us in the days ahead.

WORDS
LIFE

There was a day when some of the disciples of Jesus became discouraged and walked no more with Him.

But when the Master asked the twelve, "Will ye also go away?" Simon Peter answered, "Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life."

Never underestimate spiritual intuition! Peter sensed long before the first Easter that Christ's mission was to lead men to eternal life!

As Easter approaches, millions of men and women realize a spiritual intuition. It calls them to their churches to worship the Risen Christ. It prompts them to embrace with new fervor convictions that sometimes have become casual.

Cherish that hunger for spiritual renewal. Fortify it as Peter did with an honest evaluation of man's helplessness apart from God. To Whom shall we go? Only Christ offers the Truth and Life which are eternal.

Great Ashville Team of '45 Has Many Fond Memories

The Ashville High School Athletic Banquet held last Saturday night which paid homage to its great cage squad of 1945 brought back a host of memories to Pickaway County fans.

This was the sensational quintet that finished third in the State Class "B" Basketball Tournament of 1945 and racked up a 30-2 record for the season, the best ever in the county.

The squad has been the most talked about team in the county's 37-year history of the sport. It was an ideal squad of experience, fair height for the times, sportsmanship and the utmost desire to win.

The five starters were unselfish. They never worried about how many points they could score, but were exhilarated when a teammate broke into double figures or became the night's top scorer.

MANY FANS try to compare that squad with Ashville's 1960 Troy Regional runner-up. This is impossible since the brand of ball was entirely different.

But the present coach of the Bronco team and a fine member of the 1945 squad, Russell Gregg, summed it up quite properly Saturday night.

He said, "The 1960 squad had us on height and scoring ability. But we were a much better defensive team, a little better at ball handling and had more experience."

This great ball club was on hand to the player Saturday night. They spent an evening of reminiscing and re-playing nearly every game.

It was a great season to remember. During the regular playing

10 Ohioans In Semifinals Of Ring Test

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Ohio boasted a fourth of the field today as 40 fighters went into the semifinals of the national AAU boxing championships.

Most of the lesser lights and some of the brother ones in the starting field of 119 were eliminated in the first two rounds. The heaviest losses were Petros Spanakos of Caldwell, Idaho, 119, and 206-pound Jimmy Blythe of Hartford, Conn., winner of the AAU heavyweight crown the last two years.

Spanakos, half of a twin-brother act in the competition, was out-pointed by Oscar German of Muskegon, Mich. Blythe was eliminated by 196-pound Jimmie Jones, a 20-year-old filling station attendant from Chicago.

The scrappers, four in each of 10 divisions, will not know their semifinal opponents for tonight until the afternoon weigh-ins and drawings. Both the semifinals and finals will be staged tonight in three-round bouts—the semifin in two-minute stanzas and the championships in three-minute ones.

Defending champions still on hand are Bryan O'Shea of Chicago, 132 pounds; Quincey Daniels of Seattle, 139; Wilbert McClure of Toledo, 156; and Cassius Clay of Louisville, Ky. 178.

Along with Ohio's 10 entries, New York has 5, Michigan, 4; Colorado, Idaho and Illinois, 3 each; Louisiana, Pennsylvania and Washington, 2; and Utah, North Carolina, Massachusetts, Kansas, Kentucky and Alabama, 1 each.

Logan To Host Tigers Today

Although snow fell in noticeable quantities last night, sunshine early today indicated the Circleville Tiger baseball team should be able to play its doubleheader at Logan today.

The ground was covered with the white blanket, but it quickly disappeared as the sun climbed over the horizon.

Providing they are able to play, the Tigers will be out to get on the winning side after dropping an 8-0 opening season test at Chillicothe Thursday.

The first tilt at Logan is slated to start about 1:30 p.m.

CIRCLEVILLE opens the home season Tuesday in a rematch with Chillicothe.

Pistol Kills Boy, 8

CINCINNATI (AP) — Accidental firing of a .22 caliber pistol held by a playmate caused the death in suburban Groesbeck Friday of David Schalk, 8, county police reported.

Kansas City beat Boston's Frank Sullivan five straight times last season.

Broncos of '45 Still Successful in 1960

THEN AND NOW — Here is the 1945 Ashville High School basketball team which placed third in the Class "B" state tournament. This is the farthest any Pickaway County team has ever gone in the state tournaments. The top photo was snapped 15 years ago. The lower picture was taken last Saturday night following the annual Bronco Athletic Banquet. The players are in their same positions in both photos. First row, left: Arthur Deal, Romaine Wilson, Dr. Richard Messick, Russell Gregg, Lt. Richard Hudson and Charles Pettibone. Second row, left: Gerald Ecard, Donald Thomas, Dr. William Speakman, James Woodworth, Richard Pettibone and Lawrence Eullen. Missing in the bottom photo are Conrad Johnson and Fred Puckett, team managers who appear on the left in the top photo's second row. Ecard was not present in the top photo.

Shadow of Texas Hawk Hogan Hovers over Masters Field

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The rules-dizzy Masters Golf Tournament went into the third round today with a familiar and unnerving shadow hovering over the field — that of the Texas hawk, Ben Hogan.

"The little man is on the move again," they said around the Augusta National Course after the 47-year-old Hogan fired a brilliant four-under-par 68 to move into contention. Hogan has been in semi-retirement for five years.

Pre-tournament favorite Arnold Palmer still leads the pack with a 140—thanks to a series of weird legalistic procedures — but Ben is right behind with three others at 141.

One of these was Dow Finsterwald, who would have had first place all to himself except for a bizarre retroactive two-stroke penalty slapped on by the rules committee. The others were Claude Harmon, a portly club professional from Mamaroneck, N.Y., and Walter Burkemo, jow-faced former PGA champion.

The field was so closely packed that the top 17 were bunched within four shots of each other and only ten shots separated Palmer from the last-place man of the 45 survivors.

Palmer, however, may be hard to overtake. At 30, he is strong as an ox, imperturbable and riding the crest of money-winning success. He also is getting favorable breaks in the rules decisions.

So far in the tournament he has had free-lifts on two imbedded

One-Hour Team Bowls at Rainbow

A team sponsored by the local One-Hour leapers has turned in some commendable bowling in the Sportman's League at Rainbow Lanes on S. High St. in Columbus.

The Circleville team recently posted the league's season high for three games by accumulating 2,994 pins. Lee Smith, manager of the Cleaner firm here, rolled a season high series of 713 which included a 277 single game.

The local keglers currently are four games out of first place. They bowl on Wednesday nights.

Members of the squad are Smith, Chetier, Bob Willis, Ted Morgan, Richard Koch and Loren Alexander.

Another Sizzling National League Season Expected

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Another sizzling National League pennant race, perhaps even another playoff, was in prospect today as the senior circuit girded itself for the opening of the major league baseball season Tuesday.

For the first time in ages, the National League will have the play and the ballyhoo all to itself. The American League will open its season a week later.

Weather permitting the four National League openers should attract some 165,000 customers.

A night game crowd of some 50,000 is expected to watch the world champion Dodgers begin their title defense against the Chicago Cubs at Los Angeles. It was expected that Don Drysdale (17-13), the tall, fire-balling right-hander would start for the Dodgers against Bob Anderson (12-13).

A capacity crowd of 42,549 already is assured at San Francisco's new Candlestick Park where the Giants will entertain the improved St. Louis Cardinals. Sam Jones (21-15), ace of the Giants' staff probably will oppose Larry Jackson (14-13).

Upwards of 43,000 Milwaukeeans are expected to watch last year's runner-up Braves, under new manager Chuck Dressen, take on the Pittsburgh Pirates at County Stadium. Warren Spahn (21-15), top-winning southpaw in National League history, will face veteran right-hander, Bob Friend (8-19).

A traditional opening day Cincinnati sellout of 31,000 will see the Reds' Jim Brosnan (9-6) or ex-American Leaguer Cal McLish (19-8) oppose the venerable Philadelphia Phillies' right-hander Robbie Roberts (15-17).

The most prolific trading in years has resulted in major changes on every club except the Dodgers and Braves. The Giants, who came close last year, appear to have helped themselves the most and look like the strongest club. Las Vegas gambling odds, however, favor Milwaukee.

The San Francisco Giants, heavy favorites to win the National League pennant, also will have the league's most valuable player in Willie Mays and the winningest pitcher in Sam Jones according to the nation's baseball writers.

In an annual pre-season poll, compiled by The Associated Press today, 169 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America also selected Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees as the American League's probable MVP and Bob Shaw of the pennant-favored Chicago White Sox as the winningest pitcher.

The writers, who picked San Francisco, Milwaukee and the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers 1-2-3 in the 1960 NL pennant race, selected Mays over Hank Aaron of the Braves by approximately a 3-2 margin in the MVP balloting. Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, who won an unprecedented second consecutive MVP award in the official NL writers' vote last year, was ranked third in the poll.

Mays led with 60 votes. Aaron collected 42 and Banks 11 as the writers nominated 15 players in The AP poll.

Mantle, already a two-time American League MVP winner, drew 32 votes, compared to 29 by the White Sox' Nellie Fox, last year's official winner. Rocky Colavito of the Cleveland Indians polled 23 votes.

The writers picked Jones as the big winner of the NL season by a decided margin over Don Drysdale of Los Angeles, Warren Spahn of Milwaukee and Sam's teammate, Johnny Antonelli. Jones drew 35 votes, Drysdale 22, Spahn 21 and Antonelli 20.

Among pitchers in the American League, where the writers predicted another Chicago, Cleveland, New York finish, Shaw had a 34-20 vote edge over teammate Early Wynn.

Big Boys Ready For Openers

Spahn, Musial, Banks Await 'Play Ball!'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rookies, rumors and rain, forgotten. Here's the real story of spring training:

Spahn's ready. So's Musial. And Boyer and Banks and Roberts and Drysdale, and Willie McCovey, too.

They're ready for next Tuesday when the National League opens the 1960 major league season.

Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's veteran left-hander, worked four innings Friday. He gave up only one run to the Cincinnati Reds as the Braves won 6-3 at Nashville.

The Cardinals' Stan Musial, who could win comeback of the year honors, hit his fourth spring home run to spark a St. Louis rally that beat the Cubs 6-4 at Mesa. Teammate Ken Boyer added a homer in the ninth inning.

Robin Roberts worked six scoreless innings against minor league opposition at Hollywood, Fla., wrapping up a 4-0 Philadelphia victory over Indianapolis of the American Assn.

Don Drysdale of Los Angeles pitched five scoreless innings and struck out six San Francisco Giants at Bakersfield, Calif. But McCovey, a sophomore question mark most of the spring, hit his third homer in four days to key a five-run eighth-inning rally that won it for the Giants 7-3.

Pittsburgh was idle Friday. So were Boston and Cleveland in the American League but the other six played.

The Washington Senators ended New York's three-game winning streak, 8-0 at Orlando. Camilo Pascual and Jack Kralick pitched it.

The Detroit Tigers worked over Chicago's Billy Pierce for five runs in the second and third innings, but it took a 10th-inning single by Gail Harris for a 6-5 Tiger victory.

Ronnie Hansen staked a new claim on Baltimore's starting shortstop job. He got three hits and two RBIs as the Orioles whipped Kansas City 5-3.

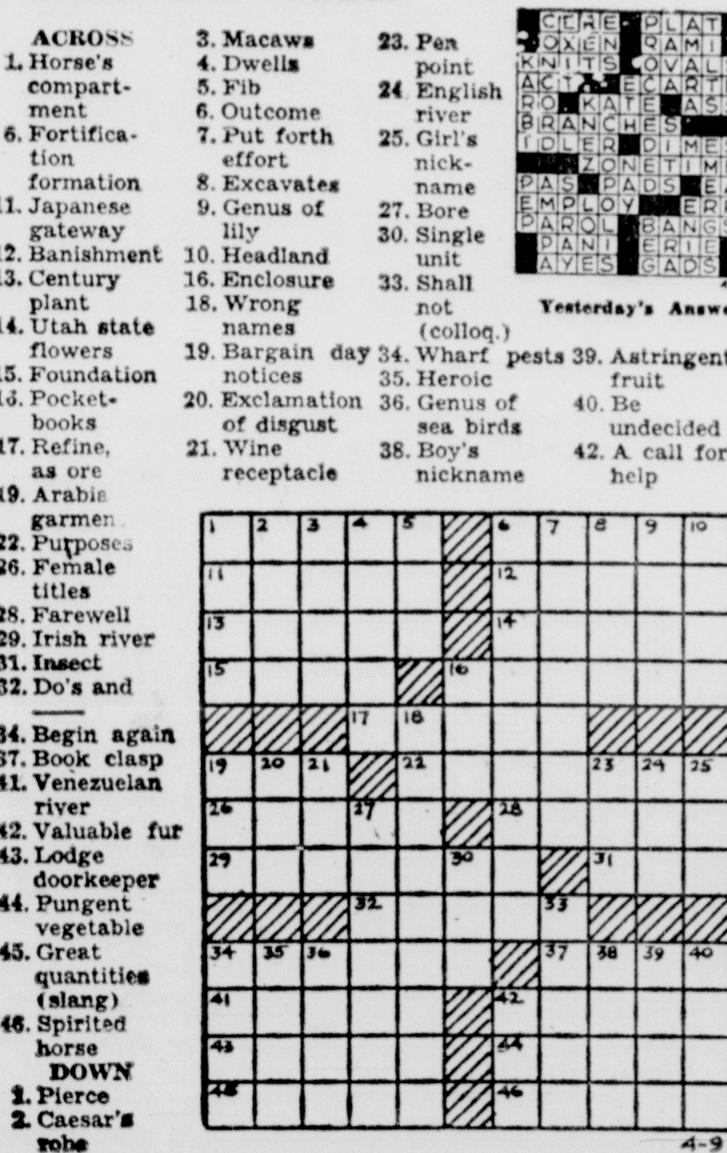

Ohio Senators Back New Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) voted in the affirmative Friday night as the Senate passed the civil rights bill 71-18.

Earlier the two had also voted with the majority as the Senate killed a motion to send the bill back to the Judiciary Committee. The vote was 70-19.

It is estimated that each cubic mile of sea water contains three tons of the element nickel.

Wayne PTA

Hears Talk on Bond Issue

Wayne Twp. PTA had food and family fun preceding their April business session Thursday evening at the school.

Following the covered dish supper, Superintendent George Hartman and assistants, presented the school issue — with a talk and pictures entitled "Your Schools."

Acceptance of the bond issue is necessary if we expect to follow through our said belief that educating our youth is a good investment which will pay rich dividends.

The need for improvement in Circleville grade schools is well recognized, but Wayne Twp. enrollment is not sufficient to operate efficiently and for benefits for junior high students which we are recently and satisfactorily consolidated with Circleville. Opinion is that we are back where we started two years ago, they stated.

Following a question and answer period the business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. George Kline.

Special announcements included Visitation Day for parents April 13 and plans for a last day school picnic for boys and girls. Children will bring a sack lunch and the PTA will furnish dessert and drink. Plans for Easter parties for each room were announced and room mothers were reminded of keep.

The war has shown the necessity for resourcefulness, experiment and creativity. No country encourages independent thinking as much as our own American.

In Ralph Waldo Emerson's Self-Reliance is this passage: "There is a time in every man's education when he arrives at the conviction that envy is ignorance; that imitation is suicide; that he must take himself for better, for worse as his portion; that though the wide universe is full of good, no kernel of nourishing corn can come to him but through his toil bestowed on that plot of ground which is given to him to till."

"Our opportunities to work or learn may be hampered by man-made opposition and obstacles which will discourage us. We are in a maze where the light of the promise of security can be seen down one of the corridors.

That light is a supreme gift that has been assured every person — the gift of Faith, of Faith in a Supreme Being Who has given us a security that no person or thing can remove.

"At the end of the right corridor lies my true security — the potential within me and the initiative to develop it."
